

Can faith communities change the climate?

The Moral Responsibility to Address Global Warming

Religious leaders have prepared a Canadian Interfaith Call for Leadership and Action on Climate Change. Join a discussion on what Canada and Canadians must do to address global warming.

Moderator:

Jim Creskey,

publisher of The Hill Times and senior editor and a regular columnist for Embassy Magazine

Panelists:

Mardi Tindal,

Moderator, The United Church of Canada

Senator Grant Mitchell,

Deputy Chair of the Senate Committee on Energy, the Environment and Natural Resources

Lauryn Drainie,

Lead Organizer, Climate Action Network Canada

Date:

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 23, 2011

Time:

6:30PM – RECEPTION WITH FAITH LEADERS

7:00PM – PROGRAM BEGINS

Location:

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, 82 KENT ST., OTTAWA (CORNER OF WELLINGTON, IN FRONT OF THE SUPREME COURT)

This public event is organized by a collaborative interfaith committee on climate justice, including The Commission on Justice and Peace of The Canadian Council of Churches, Citizens for Public Justice, Faith and the Common Good, The Hill Times, and Embassy magazine.

